1. About BlackRock Investment Management (Australia) Limited

BlackRock Investment Management (Australia) Limited, ABN 13 006 165 975 (referred to in this PDS as BlackRock, Responsible Entity, Manager, we, our or us) is the responsible entity and the issuer of units in the iShares ESG Australian Bond Index Fund (Class D Units) (Fund).

BlackRock is a wholly owned subsidiary of BlackRock, Inc.® (BlackRock Inc) but is not guaranteed by BlackRock Inc, or any BlackRock Inc subsidiary or associated entity (the BlackRock Group). Neither BlackRock nor any member of the BlackRock Group guarantees the success of the Fund, the achievement of the investment objective, or the repayment of capital or particular rates of return on investment or capital. An investor in the Fund could lose all or a substantial part of their investment. In particular, the performance of the Fund will depend on the performance and market value of the assets held by the Fund. We reserve the right to outsource any or all investment, management and administration functions, including to related parties, without notice to investors.

2. How the iShares ESG Australian Bond Index Fund (Class D Units) works

2.1 The interests that members acquire

The Fund is structured as a unitised registered managed investment scheme. This means your money is pooled together with monies from other investors. This is used to buy investments that are managed on behalf of all investors in the Fund. When you invest in the Fund, you are allocated a number of units in the Fund, rather than directly receiving an interest in the assets of the Fund. Each of these units represents an equal share in the net assets of the Fund as a whole and are not related to any particular asset. As a result, each unit has a dollar value or “unit price”. The unit price will vary as the market value of assets in the Fund rises or falls. The number of units you receive is dependent on the amount of money you invest and the applicable unit price.

2.2 Minimum investment amounts

When investing in the Fund you generally need a minimum amount of $500,000 or such other amount as we may determine from time to time. There is no minimum investment for subsequent applications. While there is no minimum redemption amount, we generally require a minimum balance in your Fund account of $500,000.

2.3 How investors can increase or decrease their investment

Investors can increase or decrease their investment by acquiring units (refer to section 8.1 of this PDS titled “How to apply”) or redeeming all or part of their investment (refer to section 2.4 of this PDS titled “How to redeem your investment”).

2.4 How to redeem your investment

Redemption requests can be made in writing (either by post or facsimile). You will normally be able to redeem from the Fund on any Business Day, being a day other than a Saturday or Sunday on which banks are open for general banking business in Sydney. A list of public holidays affecting the Fund is available on our website at www.blackrock.com/au.

Investor transaction requests are required to be received by 1.00pm (Sydney time) on any Business Day (Transaction Cut-off Time). Transaction requests received before this time will generally be executed on the same day (Trade Date). Investor transaction requests received after this time or on a day when the Fund is unavailable for transactions will generally be treated as having been received the following Business Day.

Following receipt of a redemption request, we will deposit redemption proceeds into your nominated Australian bank account, generally within three Business Days of our having received the redemption request, although we are allowed longer periods under the Fund's constitution.

In some circumstances, such as when there is a freeze on withdrawals, investors may not be able to withdraw from the Fund within the usual period upon request.

2.5 Frequency of distributions and how they are calculated

If you hold units in the Fund at the close of business on the last day of a distribution period, you are entitled to participate in the distributable income of the Fund. Any income you receive from your investments will be in the form of distributions. Your entitlement to distributable income (if any) is based on how many units you held at the end of the distribution period as a proportion of the total number of units on issue in the Fund at that time. Your distribution may include interest, dividends, other income and realised gains. Distributions are not guaranteed and there may be periods for which distributions are higher or lower than expected.

Distributions (if any) are generally determined at the end of March, June, September and December each year. Distributions (if any) are usually paid within 21 Business Days of the end of the distribution period.

3. Benefits of investing in the iShares ESG Australian Bond Index Fund (Class D Units)

Index tracking: The Fund is an index tracker and seeks to provide investors with similar returns, before fees, to those of its benchmark index.

Diversification: In contrast to a direct investment in a single company or bond, the Fund provides exposure to a broad range of securities or instruments within its benchmark index.

Lower cost: As the Fund is passively managed and designed to track a particular index, the expenses of managing the Fund are generally lower compared to other forms of retail managed funds.

4. Risks of managed investment schemes

All investments carry risk. Different strategies may carry different levels of risk, depending on the assets that make up the strategy. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk. The value of investments will vary. The level of returns will vary, and future returns may differ from past returns. Returns are not guaranteed, and investors may lose some or all of their investment. The laws affecting registered managed investment schemes may also change in the future.

The appropriate level of risk for each investor will vary depending on a range of factors including age, investment time frames, where other parts of the investor's wealth is invested and the investor's risk tolerance.

4.1 Specific investments risks

The specific investment risks of investing in the Fund include:

Derivative risk. The Fund may be exposed to derivative securities. The use of derivatives exposes a fund to different risks as opposed to investing directly in a security. For example, derivatives can cause a fund to make greater gains or incur greater losses than the gains and losses of the underlying security in relation to which the derivative derives its value.

Derivative transactions may be subject to the risk that a counterparty to the transaction will wholly or partially fail to perform their contractual obligations under the arrangement (including failing to meet collateral requirements under the arrangement). Additionally, OTC markets are not guaranteed by an exchange or clearing corporation and generally do not require payment of margin. To the extent that a fund has unrealised gains in such instruments or has deposited collateral with its counterparty that fund is at risk that its counterparty will become bankrupt or otherwise fail to honour its obligations. Derivative transactions may also expose a fund to a risk of potential illiquidity if the derivative instrument is difficult to purchase or sell.

The BlackRock Group attempts to minimise these risks by engaging in derivative transactions only with financial institutions that have substantial capital or that have provided a third-party guarantee or other credit enhancement.

ESG risk. The use of ESG criteria may affect the Fund's investment performance and, as such, the Fund may perform differently compared to similar funds that do not use such criteria.

Index related risk. In order to meet its investment objective, the Fund will seek to achieve a return that reflects the its benchmark index as published by each applicable index provider. While index providers do provide a description of what each index is designed to achieve, index providers do not generally provide any warranty or accept any liability in relation to the quality, accuracy or completeness of data in respect of their indices, nor any guarantee that the published index will be in line with their described benchmark index methodologies. Errors in respect of the quality, accuracy and completeness of the data may occur from time to time and may not be identified and corrected for a period of time, in particular where an index is less commonly used. During a period where an index contains incorrect constituents, a fund benchmarked to that index would have market exposure to such constituents. As such, errors may potentially result in a negative or positive performance impact to the fund and to its unitholders. Apart from scheduled rebalances, index providers may carry out additional ad hoc rebalances to their benchmark indices in order, for example, to correct an error in the selection of index constituents. Where an index is rebalanced and a fund in turn rebalances its portfolio to bring it in line with the index, any transaction costs and market exposure arising from such portfolio rebalancing will be borne by the fund and, by extension, the fund's unitholders. Therefore, errors and additional ad hoc rebalances carried out by an index provider may increase the costs and market exposure risk of a fund.

Fixed income securities risk. The Fund may be exposed to fixed income securities. There are a number of risks associated with an investment in fixed income securities, which can result in significant variability in investment returns and a loss of income or capital value. These include:

- Credit risk. The value of a fund investing in fixed income securities is affected by the perceived or actual credit worthiness of the issuer of the security. A perceived or actual deterioration of credit quality (e.g. an issuer credit downgrade or credit event leading to a revised premium attributable to investment due to credit worthiness downgrade) of a fixed income security will adversely impact the value of such investment.
- Interest rate risk. An increase in interest rates will cause the values of fixed income securities, in particular fixed rate securities, to decline, which will in turn impact the returns of a fund investing in such securities. Interest rate risk is generally lower for shorter term fixed income investments and higher for longer term fixed income investments.
- Income risk. A fund investing in fixed income securities may experience a decline in income where market interest rates are falling. This can result when a fund reinvests in securities at a lower yield than the current fund portfolio yield.
- Spread risk. The prevailing rates of compensation for creditworthiness of issuers of instruments (spread) is affected by market factors including sentiment, supply and demand and general economic conditions. A change in these factors, which impact spread, can negatively impact the yield earned by a fund investing in credit instruments.
- Issuer risk. Corporate issuers of fixed income securities may willingly or unwillingly default on their obligation to make interest or principal payments. Similarly, sovereign issuers (i.e. governments of a country or an agency backed by a government) may refuse to comply with their obligations during economically difficult or politically volatile times. Such events may cause a downgrade in the credit rating of an issuer and/or its fixed income security, which in turn may cause the value of the fixed income security to fall. There is also no assurance that an issuer of fixed income securities will continue to issue the fixed income securities or keep that particular fixed income securities market open.

Securities lending risk. The Fund may be exposed to an underlying fund that engages in a securities lending program, which involves the lending of fund investments to counterparties over a period of time. In the event that a fund engages in securities lending it may have a credit risk exposure to the counterparties to any securities lending contract. While the securities lending program generally seeks to ensure all securities lending is fully collateralised, a fund may lose money where any securities lending is not fully collateralised (i.e. due to timing issues arising from payment lags or due to a fall in the value of the collateral below the value of the loaned securities) and where a borrower of loaned securities defaults on its obligations (i.e. failing to return the securities in a timely manner or at all). A fund could also lose money in the event of a decline in the value of any investments made with cash collateral. These events could also trigger adverse tax consequences for a fund.

Tracking error risk. The NAV of an index tracking fund may not correlate exactly with the index it is designed to match. Factors such as fund fees and expenses, imperfect correlation between fund security holdings and index constituents, inability to rebalance portfolio holdings in response to changes to index constituents, rounding of prices, index changes and regulatory policies may affect the ability of a fund to achieve close correlation with the index. A fund's returns may therefore deviate from the index it is designed to match. The Fund may be exposed to an optimised index tracking strategy, which may incur tracking error risk to a greater extent than a strategy that seeks to fully replicate an index.

4.2 General risks

Other risks more generally associated with investing in a fund include:

Conflicts of interest risk. Certain conflicts of interest may arise in the operation of a BlackRock Group fund. Fund structures may involve members of the BlackRock Group acting in more than one capacity, while BlackRock Group funds may hold over-the-counter derivative agreements where a member of the BlackRock Group is acting (in different capacities) on both sides of the agreement. BlackRock Group funds may be invested in by persons associated with BlackRock Group or by other funds and accounts managed by different members of the BlackRock Group. Investors in a fund may, in some instances, invest on different terms to each other, some of which may be more favourable than others. Each investor in a fund may act in a way which is adverse to the interests of other investors in that fund. Additionally, funds and accounts managed by different members of the BlackRock Group may act as a seed investor in a BlackRock Group fund, which may create a commercial opportunity for the BlackRock Group. For example, a seed investment may allow the BlackRock Group to establish a track record for a fund that can then be sold to other clients. Certain investment strategies of the BlackRock Group may conflict with each other and may affect the price and availability of securities in which to invest. Members of the BlackRock Group may also give advice or take action with respect to any of their clients, which may differ from the advice given or the timing or nature of any action taken with respect to the investments of other BlackRock Group funds or accounts.

While conflicts of interest may arise from time to time, the BlackRock Group has established policies and procedures in place to manage any such conflict, which includes ensuring transactions between BlackRock Group entities are conducted on an arm's length commercial basis.

Counterparty risk. Institutions, such as brokerage firms, banks, and broker-dealers, may enter into transactions with the manager of a fund in relation to the sale and purchase of assets or securities. Such institutions may also be issuers of the securities in which a fund invests. Bankruptcy, fraud, regulatory sanction or a refusal to complete a transaction at one of these institutions could significantly impair the operational capabilities or the capital position of a fund. While the BlackRock Group uses reasonable efforts to mitigate such risks, there can be no guarantee that transactions between such counterparties will always be completed in the manner contemplated by, and favourable to, the relevant fund.

Fund risk. The price of units in a fund and the income from them may go down as well as up. Investors may not get back their original investment. There can be no assurance that a fund will achieve its investment objective or that an investor will achieve profits or avoid losses, significant or otherwise. Capital return and income of a fund is based on the capital appreciation and income of the securities invested in, less expenses incurred. Fund returns may fluctuate in response to changes in such capital appreciation or income. The payment of distributions is at the discretion of the fund issuer, taking into account various factors and its own distribution policy. Distributions are not guaranteed and there may be periods for which distributions are higher or lower than expected. Investing in a fund may result in a different tax outcome than investing in securities directly. The application of tax laws and certain events occurring within a fund may result in you receiving some of your investment back as income in the form of a distribution. A fund will generally not be managed with consideration of the individual circumstances, including specific tax considerations, applicable to any single unitholder in the fund. Past performance is not indicative of future performance.

Individual investment risk. Individual securities held by a fund can and do fall in value for many reasons. Both price and levels of income are subject to fluctuation. Returns from individual securities will vary and price movements can be volatile.

Liquidity risk. The Fund may be exposed to securities with limited liquidity, which are in practice infrequently traded or for which typical daily volumes traded are small. It may not be possible to sell such securities when it is desirable to do so or to realise what the manager perceives to be their fair value in the event of a sale. The Fund may also be exposed to other funds that may, in certain circumstances, limit or suspend redemptions rights. The general level of market liquidity also varies and may deteriorate. Such a deterioration may negatively impact the ability to trade fund securities and may negatively affect the price at which a trade is executed. These circumstances could impair a fund's ability to make distributions to a redeeming unit holder in a timely manner and a fund may need to consider suspending redemptions.

The BlackRock Group aims to reduce these risks by understanding the liquidity characteristics of securities a fund is exposed to and plans trading so as to minimise the adverse consequences of low liquidity.

Market risk. The Fund could lose money over short periods due to short-term market movements and over longer periods during more prolonged market downturns. Local, regional or global events such as war, acts of terrorism, the spread of infectious illness or other public health issues, recessions, or other events could have a significant impact on the Fund and its investments.

Operational risk. The risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems, or from external events. Adverse impacts may arise internally through human error, technology or infrastructure changes, or through external events such as third-party failures or crisis events. The BlackRock Group has procedures in place to manage these risks and, as much as possible, monitor the controls within these procedures to ensure operational risks are adequately managed.

Regulatory and business risk. Changes in corporate, taxation or other relevant laws, regulations or rules may adversely affect your investment. For example, such changes may adversely affect a fund's ability to execute certain investment strategies, which could have a material effect on performance.

5. How we invest your money

WARNING: Investors should consider the likely investment return, the risk, and their investment timeframe when choosing a fund in which to invest. This Fund only offers a single investment option.

The Fund aims to provide investors with the performance of the custom benchmark, before fees, as measured by the return of a customised Bloomberg MSCI Australia 100mn ESG Weighted SRI Select Index (Index).

The Fund seeks to provide investors with a low-cost, income generating investment option. The Fund's customised benchmark is modelled, rebalanced, and managed externally by MSCI, in partnership with Bloomberg (Index Providers). The Index Providers have developed the Index with input from BlackRock. From time to time, BlackRock may request the Index Providers to consider changes to the Index.

Our investment style is based on our belief that people, leveraged by technology, are central to the consistent achievement of our clients' investment goals. We believe that a focus on total performance management is the best way to achieve superior investment results. Through total performance management, we aim to understand; measure; and manage the three dimensions of investment performance — return, risk and cost.

We believe that stratified sampling is the most appropriate investment strategy to track the performance of the Index as it takes into account liquidity, transaction cost impact and overall risk relative to the Index.

Stratified sampling involves choosing a subset of Index eligible securities to create a portfolio that behaves like the Index. In many cases, holding every security in the Index is not cost effective, as illiquid or thinly traded securities incur higher transaction costs and wider bid-ask spreads. By investing in a subset of securities that combine to match the overall risk profile of the Index the Fund avoids incurring unnecessary trading costs, which can detract from total Fund returns.

A stratified sampling approach is usually accomplished by dividing the Index into strata or "cells" along some of the more common fixed income security attributes such as maturity, sector and credit quality. Securities are then chosen that have similar risk and return characteristics that replicate each of the cells and in units consistent with Index exposures.

The Fund's ESG investment approach

The Fund's index methodology incorporates environmental, social and governance (ESG) considerations by applying:

- exclusionary screens as described below to avoid corporate bond issuers associated with certain business activities (as described further below), and
- MSCI's ESG weighting methodology to increase exposure to issuers that have higher ESG ratings and reduce exposure to issuers that have lower ESG ratings. For example, an issuer with an MSCI ESG rating assessment of AAA, AA or A will have a 50% weighting increase whereas an issuer with an MSCI ESG rating assessment of CCC will have a 50% weighting decrease.

As the Fund’s custom benchmark applies exclusionary screens and also seeks improved ESG characteristics through a weighting methodology, the Fund is in the ‘Uplift’ category on the BlackRock Sustainable Investing Platform.

The benchmark index avoids issuers that have exposure to, or ties with, certain business activities (subject to relevant sector classifications and/or revenue thresholds), including:

- Controversial Weapons
- Nuclear Weapons
- Civilian Firearms
- Tobacco
- Alcohol
- Thermal Coal
- Certain other fossil fuels
- Conventional Weapons
- Nuclear Power
- Adult Entertainment
- Gambling
- United Nations Compact Violators
- Genetically Modified Organisms

The definitions for screening are based on the Bloomberg MSCI ESG fixed income index methodology. The index provider’s screening process is conducted only within the corporate sector. The screening process does not screen out securities in the government, government-related or securitised sectors. This means that bonds issued by these non-ESG screened entities and issuers may still be contained in the Fund.

Capturing additional returns

To overcome the impact that transaction costs and cash drag can have on relative performance, we undertake several value-adding strategies such as:

- Cash-flow management: We can use exchange-traded bond futures contracts to manage bond coupon flows to minimise market impact and therefore achieve a less-costly approach to trading.
- Buying new bonds in the primary market: This avoids the need to purchase a scarce bond in the secondary market at month- end and takes advantage of any spread concession offered when the security is first issued.

To achieve its investment objective, the Fund invests in the Australian fixed income securities that form the Index. Derivatives, such as futures, can be used to manage risk and return. When derivative positions are established, they will always be backed by cash holdings and/or underlying assets. Derivative securities will not be used to gear the Fund.

The Fund may hold a small allocation of cash (or cash equivalents that may include units in other BlackRock funds) for cash flow management purposes. The Fund’s investment strategy aims to remain fully exposed to the Australian bond market, with cash exposure being maintained to a minimum and which may be bondised using index futures.

While the constitution of the Fund allows the Responsible Entity to borrow, it is our intention that no borrowing arrangements will be entered into, other than temporary overdrafts, which may be used as a means of managing certain cash flows.

The Fund is able to participate in a securities lending program managed by BlackRock and Fund’s custodian. As part of this program, the Australian fixed income securities held by the Fund are lent to approved borrowers for a fee. The collected fee represents securities lending income, which generates additional investment returns for the Fund. While participation in the securities lending program requires the payment of securities lending agent fees, all fees are paid for out of any generated securities lending income. If no securities lending income is generated, no securities lending agent fees will be payable.

The Fund may be suitable for investors who are seeking capital preservation. The minimum suggested timeframe for holding investments in the Fund is 3 years. From an investor’s perspective, the Fund is considered medium risk.

6. Fees and costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

6.1 Fees and costs summary

The following table shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. Unless otherwise indicated, fees are inclusive of Goods and Services Tax (GST), any applicable stamp duty and take into account expected reduced input tax credits in respect of the GST component of the fee.

Information in the fee table can be used to compare costs between different simple managed investment schemes. Fees and costs can be paid directly from your account or deducted from investment returns.

6.2 Example of annual fees and costs

The table below gives an example of how ongoing annual fees and costs in the Fund can affect your investment over a 1-year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other products offered by managed investment schemes.

Example – iShares ESG Australian Bond Index Fund
Balance of $500,000 with a contribution of $5,000 during year
Contribution Fees	Nil	For every additional $5,000 you put in you will be charged $0.

Management fees and costs	0.21%	And, for every $500,000 you have in the Fund you will be charged or have deducted from your investment an estimated $1,050 each year.
Performance fees	Nil	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $0 in performance fees each year
Transaction costs	0.00%	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $0 in transaction costs
EQUALS
Cost of Fund	If you had an investment of $500,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional $5,000 during that year you would be charged fees and costs of $1,050. ¹ What it costs you will depend on the fees you negotiate.

1. Additional fees may apply. A buy spread of 0.05%, equal to $2.50 on a $5,000 contribution, will also apply.

There is a calculator provided by ASIC on its MoneySmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) which can be used to calculate the effect of fees and costs on Fund account balances.

6.3 Additional explanation of fees and costs

Can the fees and charges change?

All fees can change. The current fees applicable to your investment are set out in this PDS and although we have the power to change our fee structure without your consent, we have no present intention to do so. Fees may vary over time due to changes to the Fund, changing economic conditions or changes in regulation. We will provide investors 30 days' notice of any proposed increase to our fees and charges.

Additional information incorporated by reference

You should read the important information about fees and costs before making a decision.

Go to Section 6 of the document titled "BlackRock Additional Fund Information No. 1", which is available from our website at www.blackrock.com/au/individual/funds-information/offer-documents.

7. How managed investment schemes are taxed

WARNING: Investing in a registered managed investment scheme is likely to have tax consequences and you are strongly advised to seek professional tax advice.

Registered managed investment schemes generally do not pay tax on behalf of investors. However, BlackRock may be required to withhold tax from each distribution at the relevant withholding tax rates under certain circumstances. You will be assessed for tax on any income and capital gains attributed to you by the fund.

8. How to apply

8.1 How to apply

To make your initial investment, complete and send to us (either by post or facsimile) the Fund’s Application Form that accompanies this PDS or is available from our website at www.blackrock.com/au or by calling Client Services (refer to page 1 of this PDS for contact details). You will normally be able to invest in the Fund on any Business Day. A list of public holidays affecting the Fund is available on our website at www.blackrock.com/au. We have absolute discretion to accept, reject, or limit any application request.

If you choose to send us your completed Fund Application Form by facsimile, you will need to send us your original Fund Application Form for our records. Investor transaction requests are required to be received prior to the Transaction Cut-off Time. Transaction requests received before this time will generally be executed on the relevant Trade Date. Investor transaction requests received after this time or on a day when the Fund is unavailable for transactions will generally be treated as having been received the following Business Day.

Your investment amount can be deposited into the application bank account as shown on the Fund’s Application Form. If you deposit your investment amount in the application bank account, you must provide us with verification from your financial institution that the money has been banked.

Investment details are outlined in the Fund’s Application Form.

In order for us to be able to process your investment, you must ensure that BlackRock receives cleared money by the relevant Trade Date. You may also need to complete an Investor Identification Form (which follows the Fund Application Form) for the purpose of Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing legislation. Refer to section 2.4 of this PDS titled “How to redeem your investment” for details of the Fund’s Business Day, Transaction Cut-off Time and Trade Date.

8.2 Do you have “cooling off” rights?

The Fund generally has a minimum investment amount of $500,000. As such, cooling off rights within the meaning of the Corporations Act will not usually be available to direct investors.

8.3 Enquiries and complaints

If you have an enquiry or complaint, you can contact our Complaints Officer via Client Services (refer to page 1 of this PDS for contact details). We have established procedures for dealing with enquiries and complaints. If you make a complaint to us, the complaint will be acknowledged and steps will be taken to investigate your concerns. A final response will be provided within 30 calendar days in accordance with our obligations.

BlackRock is a member of the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA), an independent complaint resolution body.
